Wine-making:

Spain is a country that is characterized by having summers with extremely high temperatures and little or no rainfall. Situations like these reaffirm to us the decision to go for a Mediterranean variety like this which is capable of adapting to these situations much better, retaining its fruity character and a very good balance in the components of the must (pH, acidity and alcoholic strength). In return, the polyphenolic character of this white variety was accentuated, which forced us to be even more attentive in order to avoid uncontrolled oxidations and to consider the clearing of the must and clarification of the wine more carefully. We introduce a wine which is full on the nose and which has a marvellous balance and volume on the palate.

Tasting Notes:

Bright pale yellow in colour with golden trimmings. A magnificent aromatic intensity with floral notes (jasmine) and a touch of white fruit. On the palate it's unctuous with a lot of volume, length and velvety. Flavourful and intense.
